FOURTH DISTRICT CAUCUS TONIGHT

The County Convention delegates of the Fourth District are to caucus this evening at Republican headquarters on Fort street.

From the talk among the delegates there will probably be taken a straw vote on the various candidates for County offices, concerning which the Fourth District has a say.

There are five men in the field for the nomination of the Republican County Convention for Supervisors from Honolulu and there are but two to be elected.

The five in the field are: Clarence Crabbe, Jim Quinn, Charlie Hustace, W. E. Dillingham and A. V. Gear.

There is a proposition on foot to the effect that when the straw vote is taken tonight, the two men receiving the highest number of votes be declared the Republican candidates and the remaining three gracefully withdraw, leaving the fight to the two Republican candidates as against those candidates of other parties.

There is likely to be a great deal of opposition to the plan, but it will nevertheless be strongly backed and the peace-loving members of the coming convention hope that the caucus will listen to "reason" and help make things shipshape for the convention.

Crabbe's friends feel that he is entitled to the nomination for Supervisor from Honolulu in consideration of his withdrawing from the race for the Sheriffship. Gear's friends have to be reasoned with and then there are Jim Quinn, Hustace and Dillingham to be considered. Two out of five means some hot caucusing.

For County Attorney there are three in the running so far: Frank Andrade, J. W. Catheart and C. A. Long. Andrade may withdraw and it is up to Catheart and Long to hold a love feast and fight it out. Catheart, it is said, will not consider a withdrawal.

There are only two spoken of, on the Republican ticket, for County Auditor: H. M. Dow and James Bicknell, the present able incumbent.

For Treasurer there is but F. T. P. Waterhouse seriously mentioned and opposition here is not anticipated.

There is no fight in the matter of the Sheriffship. Brown is the man. As to the Deputy-Sheriffship—that is another story and may prove to be the most interesting topic of the caucus.

Hanalei, now a clerk in the County Clerk's office, may be put up against H. C. Vida.

There is, however, little being said in regard to the caucus tonight. Some surprises are in store.

It is just possible that someone may attempt to introduce a resolution with a view to getting the County Convention to endorse the administration of Governor Carter.

No contest over the nomination for the office of County Clerk is anticipated. There is not likely to be any opposition to D. Kalaokalani, Jr.

CHINA HAS SMALLEST OF PASSENGER LISTS

The China, the old favorite ship of the Pacific Mail Company, was lying off port at daybreak this morning. She made her usual fast trip and but for the fact that she could not be inspected till 7 o'clock this morning by the quarantine doctors, would have arrived long ahead of her schedule. As it was she was slowed down yesterday in order that she should not get in here too soon.

The China has what is probably the smallest passenger list in her history, having only eleven in her first cabin, of whom three are for Honolulu. She also has on board 329 Japanese for this city.

The China will have to take on coal and water in this port and will not leave till 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. She will take a large list for the Coast from this city.

EDITORS JOURNEY DOWN THE LINE

The visitors from the Southern California Editorial Association started this morning on their trip down the O. R. & L. Co.'s line to see the wonders of Hawaii's sugar plantations and small farms, crowding the event with a visit to beautiful Haleiwa, where they will take luncheon. The contemplated visit to the Waialua dam and pineapple ranches was postponed until later on.

The O. R. & L. Co. rose to the occasion in its usual style, putting up an elegant special train composed of the observation car and three chair cars. It had been figured that this would just accommodate the people who had been invited, but curiously enough quite a number of these failed to show up, so that there was about a car to spare, giving more than ample room for all.

The train was scheduled to leave the depot at 8:45 a. m., but owing to the tardy arrival of some of those who were expected to go, it was held until 8:55 a. m. Among those who participated in the jaunt were, besides the visitors, who turned out in full, members of the Promotion Committee and of the Reception Committee, with their wives, newspapermen and a few others.

The visitors all appeared to be in the highest of spirits and evidently promised themselves considerable enjoyment from the trip.

An amusing incident marked the departure of the excursionists. The train had pulled well down the covered depot track, when a series of loud and agonizing screams were heard from one of the cars. Fearing editorial distress the engineer stopped the train, whereupon County Treasurer Trent was seen to emerge from one of the cars with great speed. He had been talking with some friends on the train, who had tried to persuade him to come along. He declined, whereupon his genial friends held him down by force, and only his campaign-trained lung power saved the Deacon from making an involuntary excursion.

IMMIGRATION STILL UNCERTAIN

The Hawaii Sugar Planters' Association this morning received a letter from A. F. Judd, representing the Association in the Philippines, in search of plantation labor, but no information of importance was contained therein. Mr. Judd was about to go to Hongkong to look up matters of transportation to Hawaii, for northern tribesmen of the Philippines. His recruits are at work in the northern provinces of Luzon. There is nothing definite in the Philippine labor proposition at present.

Nor is there anything certain, at this writing, in the matter of the importation of Azoreans. E. R. Stackable, representing the Territorial Bureau of Immigration, has not been heard from of late. He was, according to most recent reports, tentatively arranging for transportation, but it is still very uncertain as to whether he has made sure of the labor from the Azore Islands.

What is a Backache?

IT IS NATURE'S WARNING TO WOMEN

Diseases of Women's Organs Cured and Consequent Pain Stopped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It seems as though my back would break." Women utter these words over and over again, but continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, "bearing-down" pains, nervousness and no ambition for any task.

Miss Maude Morris

They do not realize that the back is the main spring of woman's organism and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the female organs or kidneys, and that the aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been for many years the one and only effective remedy in such cases. It speedily cures female and kidney disorders and restores the female organs to a healthy condition.

"I have suffered with female troubles for over two years, suffering intense pain each month, my back ached until it seemed as though it would break, and I felt so weak all over that I did not find strength to attend to my work but had to stay in bed a large part of the first two or three days every month. I would have sleepless nights, bad dreams and severe headaches. All this undermined my health."

"We consulted an old family physician, who advised that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it regularly and soon found that I could sleep and eat better than I had done for months. Within two months I became regular and I no longer suffer from backaches or pain."—Miss Maude Morris, Sec. Ladies Aid and Mission Society, 30 E. Hunter St., Atlanta, Ga.

Journalists Are Introduced TO Surf Boat Riding

Sunday afternoon was spent by most of the visiting editors at the Seaside hotel, where they were the guests of the management. The occasion proved to be no less enjoyable than have the other entertainments provided for them, and it is superfluous to say that they had a good time. At least, if they didn't, appearances were very deceitful. Most of the men of the party, and a number of the ladies, spent much of the time in the water. Surfboat riding was a novelty that was enjoyed hugely, not only by those in the boats, but by the other members who elected to remain on dry land and not get their hair wet.

None of the visitors, probably, had ever tried it before, but they are all anxious to indulge in the sport again and as often as possible before they return home.

"I have tried tobogganing and skiing," said one of the men, "but I never had anything give me so nearly the sensation of flying as did the ride in a surf boat on the crest of a big breaker. That's something like."

One could not help being struck by the number of remarks made by the Californians on the peculiar softness of the air and water. "I never knew anything like this before," said a California molder of public opinion, as a big roller dumped him out onto the sand and left him stranded, high if not dry. "Why, the water is just like velvet to the skin. We have some beaches back home that we think are pretty fine, but if we were in the water there today at this time, we'd be half frozen."

"I'll never be satisfied until I can return to Honolulu to stay," said another member of the party. "And I'm coming back, too. You couldn't keep me away from here. The climate and everything else strike me as being perfect."

"I'm coming back some day," remarked a member from the orange groves, sprawled luxuriously in the sand, "and if they ever get rid of me then, they'll have to deport me."

Not less enthusiastic were the members of the press association over the Hawaiian music, as rendered by the Kawaihau club. Many of them had heard it back on the Coast, but listened to here, in the setting of palm trees and odoriferous flowers and with the background of cloud-shadowed mountains, with the soft breeze blowing in from the Pacific and the waves breaking into foam on the sandy beach, in a crowd made up of people of a dozen nationalities, largely those people to whom the music belongs, it appeared to them very much more strongly than ever before. Every selection received an enthusiastic encore.

"I could never get enough of it," said one of the ladies. The music has a strange, haunting quality that affects one most peculiarly.

Afternoon tea was served at 5 o'clock, but long after that hour many of the visitors were still lingering on the sand or sitting on the "benches" scattered on the grass, gazing at the myriad changing colors of the water, watching the shadows deepening on Diamond Head, loathe to bring to a close what many of them said was the most enjoyable day of their visit up to that time.
